Three artists of different professional backgrounds make up this Goa based trio. They please fans and guests alike with soul-searching easy Latin jazz and classic Retro music.

Playing entirely Live, this trio of Maxie Miranda (Guitar & Vocals), Marino D'Souza (Drums & Vocals) and Noel (Nini) de Souza (Bass guitar & Vocals) deliver quality music which is both, foot-tapping and very pleasing to the ear. All three band members have a wealth of experience, having played different genres of music with other musicians, in India and abroad.

Maxie Miranda has journeyed through Europe and South America absorbing different styles of guitar playing, vocalization and dance and is a full time professional musician and ballroom dance instructor. He has the distinction of playing with the Late George Harrison of the Beatles when the latter came down to Goa in 1992. He is an accomplished guitarist both, in Classical and South American styles, and also plays the double bass.

Marino D'Souza is a multi instrumentalist but prefers the drums as his main instrument. An Educationist by profession, he is the Principal of a reputed Vocational training Institute and divides his time between music and work. He is one of the pioneers on the Goan band scene and has performed on keyboards and drums through out India and the Middle East.

Noel (Nini) de Souza devotes equal time to his family business and music. Though he plays the bass guitar in this set up, he is equally adept playing the acoustic guitar. Besides his love for playing live, he spends time in his recording studio which he is passionate about and has recorded many local and international artists.
